

“Investing in Africa’s future”
COLLEGE OF SOCIAL SCIENCES, HUMANITIES, THEOLOGY & EDUCATION (CSSTHE)

NHIR 113: Politics of Exploitation and Colonial Domination

END OF FIRST SEMESTER EXAMINATIONS

NOVEMBER 2018

LECTURER: Mr. G. T. Bandure

DURATION: 3 HRS

INSTRUCTIONS

Answer any three questions. Each question carries 20 marks.

Number your answers carefully.

Begin each new answer on a new page and write legibly.

Do not repeat material.

Question 1

Using Lord Palmerstone's assertion that "In international relations, there are no permanent friends or permanent enemies, only permanent interests", discuss its relevance to the modern world of International Relations.

Question 2

In world politics relationships can either be dominant and exploitative or beneficial and mutually enriching. Discuss the assertion with the use of vivid examples.

Question 3

With the use of examples discuss the assertion that Andre Gunder Frank's thesis of "development of underdevelopment" paints a true picture of the state of development in underdeveloped countries.

Question 4

Was Wilsonian idealism and the League of Nations a utopian dream, or does it remain relevant to International Relations practice today?

Question 5

- (i) Discuss two major effects of colonialism in Africa (10 marks).
- (ii) Compare and contrast realism and liberalism theories in analysing and understanding Africa (10 marks).

Question 6

Proponents of globalization have long praised it for its economic benefits while some critics maintain that it is perpetuation of exploitation and dominance by other means. Discuss with the use of vivid examples.

End of Paper