Credit is given to application of theory and practice

1. "Utilizing the theories of governance, it becomes apparent that when describing the dynamics of governance in Africa, it requires an equal measure of creative innovation and patience". With this observation in mind, provide both theoretical and practical recommendations for Africa's governance.

(60 marks)

2. George Ayittey's maxim of "African solutions for African problems" has been a consistent thread from the African Charter or the Banjul Charter and now the Constitutive Act of the African Union. You have been chosen to provide an appraisal on governance on the continent for presentation to the Assembly of the African Union during their 2022 meeting. What is your response?(60 marks)

3. How can the developmental state in Africa seek and achieve sustainable development in ways that conform to Agenda 2063? (60 marks)
